Topics: The seminar will compare the community's understanding of an appropriate sentence for a specific scenario with the official guidelines recommendation. In the process, participants will review rules for scoring guidelines correctly and learn to identify common errors. There will be a discussion on what to do when judges, attorneys or probation officers disagree with the correctly calculated guidelines recommendation. This is an interactive workshop and the material needed to participate will be available on-site. Ample time will be available to answer specific questions from participants.
